

Your Advertising Campaign for Hamilton and District is Not Complete if You Have Not Included the TIMES

It appeals to all classes and is read carefully in the homes. The Times is a bright, clean newspaper. Business telephone 368 Regent.

FOR RESULTS USE THE TIMES

SMALL AD RATES.

These rates are for complete orders. All other advertisements received by mail from out-of-town advertisers must be accompanied by cash to insure insertion. No advertisement is counted as less than 10 words.

CONDENSED ADS OR LINERS

Condensed Advertising 1¢ per word per insertion. On insertion of one or more condensed ads per word three months; $8c per word six months; $13c per word per annum. Contracts for 4,000 words or more will receive a discount of 10% off the word. Minimum charge 15 words.

The Daily Times is the only Liberal paper published in this section, and has a large following of its own. It will never endeavor to get in touch with TIMES readers.

Hamilton is the Birmingham of Canada. 27,000 artisans employed in 412 factories.

Birth, marriage, death and memorial notices, 6¢ for first insertion. 25¢ for each subsequent insertion. Trade advertising, 10¢ to 15¢ to get in touch with TIMES readers.

Commercial advertising rates of Daily and Semi-Weekly Times on application.

Business Plans $50.

Editorial Pages 263 and 364.

Job Room Phone: 940.

Private Phone 127.

Get in touch with us thousands of readers in and out of the city.

HELP WANTED—MALE

Carpenters and Laborers

Wanted at Once

Apply CANADIAN WESTINGHOUSE CO., Wentworth Street entrance.

P. H. SECORD & SON

CONSTRUCTION CO., LTD.

WANTED—LABORERS FOR PICK-UP and shovel work. Apply 88 Almack Avenue.

WANTED—FIRST-CLASS TEAMSTER

Appleton, Pa., preferred.

WANTED—WOODFINDERS, COATs and rubbers. Apply Burton & Goldwin, 100 King street north.

BOY POST OFFICE—KNOWLEDGE OF

Postage due, references, salary.

Post Office desired.

WANTED—DOOR MAN. APPLY &

H. Hamilton, Royal Canadian

WANTED—KITCHEN PORTER. AP-

PLY at once. Chef, General Hospital

MISCELLANEOUS WANTS

WANTED—UPRIGHT PIANO, FOR

mission Sabbath School; must be good condition. Give price.

WANTED—FURNISHED APARTMENT

house or flat. Address Box 30

Toronto.

If you have ANY SECOND-HAND

baskets for sale, phone Garfield 42-

REAL ESTATE FOR SALE

ONE OR TWO LOTS. GHOSTBENER

soil; or soil. Phone Regent 754.

If you WANT EAST END LOTS, LET me show you the best at lowest prices. 112 King street, Barton street

Phone Garfield 180-181.

OPTICIAN

$1.00 EYES GLASSES FOR THIS week only. Eyes tested and fitted. Dr. Hayes, Optician, 175 King street east.

UMBRELLAS—MADE TO ORDER

recovered and repaired. States,

King William street.

MEDICAL

DR. MCLEOD, SPECIALTY

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

Corner King and Barton streets.

Phone 12-13.

Telephone 212.

LEGAL

DR. PRYME SURGEON

112 King street west, office 9 to 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. 7-8-9-10

Telephone 212.

HENRY CANTERBURY, BARRISTER

Solicitor, Notary Public. Office

112 King street west, money to rent real estate security.

W. J. McLEMON, BARRISTER

Bank of Hamilton Building. Money to rent.

JOHN HUNT, BARRISTER, COUns of Law, and Hughson street.

House loans, lowest rate of interest.

WILLIAM H. YARDHOPPE, K. C.

Barister, Solicitor, Notary Public.

Money to rent, lowest rate of interest.

BELL & PRINGLE, BARRISTERS

etc. Offices, New Sun

Life Building, corner James and small amounts. Money to loan in large and small amounts. Lowest rate of interest.

HARRY D. FERGUSON, BARRIS-

TER. Office, Second Floor, Building

most recent.

BY YOUR ADVERTISING YE SHALL BE KNOWN. How true it is. It is the merchant that keeps his store and goods before the NEWSPAPER READERS that climbs to the top. Get into the game and ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES. Regent phone 368.

HELP WANTED—FEMALE

Girls Wanted

Apply Pansian Sanitary Laundry, 12-14 Walnut street south.

WANTED—WOMAN FOR DO ODD jobs. Live in or out. Apply House keeper, General Hospital.

GOOD POSITION FOR GOLD DINING ROOM. Apply, Military Hostel, 45 King street west, City.

WANTED—WOMAN FOR LINEN

keeper, General Hospital.

WANTED—STENOGRAPHER. APPLY

by letter, stating experience and salaries wanted. Smart, Turney Machine Co. Ltd.

WANTED—LAUNDRY HELP: GOOD wages; 40 days a week; live in or out.

Apply, Mrs. Young, General Hospit, 212 King street west.

WANTED—EXPERIENCED SALES

PERSONNEL; also bright girl for telephone work. Apply, Mrs. Turner, 212 King street west.

WANTED—HELP FOR GEN-

ERAL; good home; highest wages.

Apply, Mrs. Turner, 212 King street west.

WANTED—A MOTHER'S HELP FOR

GENERAL; good home; highest wages.

Apply, Mrs. Turner, 212 King street west.

FOR SALE

GOOD SQUARE PIANO. CHEAP,

Rhythm, Rhumba, Rhapsody Music Store, 212 King street west.

Two-Wheeled TRAILER WITH

pneumatic tires. Good condition.

Want to sell it at a reasonable price.

Apply, Mr. Turner, 212 King street west.

FORD LIGHT DELIVERY TRUCK

with pneumatic tires. Just overhauled.

All good. $600 (cash).

Not further use for same.

Apply, Mr. Turner, 212 King street west.

THE SCHEMERS ALLIANCE, O. CAN help you get more M. as it prints and distributes each month for you for yourself. 112 King street west.

M'LAUGHLIN FOUR ROADSTER

nineeen-fifteen model; Delco electric lighting and starting system; good running system; demountable rims; four good non-skid Goodyear tires; 1000

cu. ft. steel speedometer. Price $1000.

Buying new.

FORD ONE-TON TRUCK WITH PLATform body and cab; just repainted; not an engine for same. Box 5, Times.

FOR SALE—AN UPRIGHT PIANO. AS trimming and fur lining. Box 2, Times.

HORSE AND HARNESS, AND OTHER

fixtures for sale; cheap. Apply, Mr.

GALLIVAN STURKEMAN, ATTEN-

TION: Second-hand half-inch rope, 12 feet long, 12 cent north. Robert Super, 228

King street north.

KNURLING WOOD SAWDUST FOR

also baled shavings, excellent for packing. Apply, Mr. Gallivan, 228 King street north.

INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED

CHERRY & BURKHOLD, LTD.

48 Sun Life Building.

ROOM S. SUN LIFE BUILDING.

Phone, Regent 2252.

THE LIVERPOOL & LONDON & GLOBE

INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED

CHERRY & BURKHOLD, LTD.

48 Sun Life Building.

Phone Regent 1481.

WE ARE DOING AND PRINTING

IN 7 HOURS

SEYMOUR PHOTO SUPPLY HOUSE

12 John Street N.W.

WE ARE MILLS OF QUALITY-GIVE

US IN THE CHILDREN. Telephone 125.

LOST & FOUND

WOST—GOLD WRIST WATCH. REwarded at 112 Stanford avenue north.

MUSIC

S. J. MINNIS BROS. & MACMA-

THON, 212 King street west.

Piano tuning.

UPHOLSTERING

MEDLEY.

UPHOLSTERED CHAIRS.

119 JOHN ST. PHONE R. 125.

Carpet cleaned and laid.

MONEY TO LOAN

1/2% INTEREST ON RECENT ESTI-

MATION OF 1000.

Interest paid monthly. Apply, Mr.

LAWRENCE, 112 King street west.

PIANO TUNING

DR. H. R. FREEMAN, 112 King street west.

Phone 1252.

JEWELRY

LADIES GENUINE DIAMOND

rings, diamonds, etc. 125 King street west.

12 John street west.

TO LET.

UNFURNISHED FLAT: 3 ROOMS;

UNFURNISHED KITCHEN; BATH;

central heating; electric light; heated water. To let. 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

CHIROPRACTIO

D. H. MENDONCA—HAMILTON'S

Pioneer Chiropractor, has had remarkable success in the treatment of sciatica, lumbar, sciatica, nerve disorders, kidney and bladder disorders. Consultation free. Call 1252.

Patent Office, 112 King street west.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Lessons. Phone Regent 2252.

PATENTS

DR. PRYME SURGEON

112 King street west. Office hours 9 to 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. 7-8-9-10

Telephone 212.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Le-

ssons. Phone Regent 2252.

DR. H. H. BARRISTER, 112 King street west.

Telephone 212.

WANTED—CHIROPRACTOR FOR

Chronic Nervous and Digital Lessons. Phone

UPPER HOUSE TORIES FIGHT THE G.T.R. BILL

Four Senators, On First Day, Put Up Opposition to Purchase.

HOW WILL IT GO?

So Far as Debate Has Gone, Main Speeches From Tories.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—Already four Conservative Senators, supporters of the Government—Lieut.-Col. Hon. Frederic B. Nichols, of Toronto; Hon. W. B. Ross, of Cape Breton; Senator John C. Ross, of Quebec; and Senator Gordon, of Nipissing—have announced their determination to vote against the Grand Trunk Bill, and the debt is still mounting.

There was energetic applause to the vigorous addresses made by the Leader of the Opposition, Senator James Loughhead, and by Senator Gideon Robertson, Minister of Labor, in support of the bill. From the floor of the Senate, the Government benches so little enthusiasm was displayed that it is impossible to predict just what the ultimate vote will be.

One suggestion, hitherto not made in the debate, was that the Government, in public ownership, could not fail, dispose of the Government system on advantageous terms to groups of investors more interested in the world for organization and operation.

Within five minutes after the members of the Senate convened the first reading of the Grand Trunk bill had passed. The debate over began on the motion of Sir James Loughhead, Government Leader for the second reading of the bill.

The Leader of the Senate reviewed the negotiations between the Grand Trunk Company and the Government to show that no man had been more instrumental in bringing about that various utterances in Parliament by the Premier and others had given ample notice that the Government intended to take over the Grand Trunk Railway. Therefore, the charge that the matter had been "suddenly" brought down was not true.

MERE LOGIC OF EVENTS

The Government had spent more than one hundred million dollars to build the Trans-Canada railway and another hundred million on the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the Grand Trunk had also spent as much on the Grand Trunk as it had on its own. In worse the Laurier Government had converted the Canadian Northern into a transcontinental system, and he fought to keep it from being parallelled with the C. N. R. By the mere logic of events the Government of Canada had to eventually take over the Canadian Northern Railway. There was alternative, and both political parties had recognized the need of a Grand Trunk System and the National Transcontinental would not have been built but for the Grand Trunk System and were built at a cost of $100,000,000 and would be unthinkable without it.

Here Senator Lynch-Staunton interrupted the Minister to read notice of an amendment which he wished the Minister to take cognizance of while he was talking. His amendment asks that if the value of the assets and the common stocks determined by the common stockholders exceeds in the aggregate 7,414,700 pounds, then it may be used to be issued for it should not exceed the face of 7,414,700 pounds, and also to issue an instruction to the Minister to increase the amount of the award by reason of the fact that the new guaranteed stock had been issued and shall record the stock as equivalent in value to so much gold coin.

Thereupon dealing with this point immediately, the Minister later indicated that this limitation of the award had been placed in the bill at arbitrary figure, and that there was no reason why the Government should not accept the suggestion in the present bill.

The Minister said that Parliament represented the common people, those who went to work, and the Minister who represented the common people would step to one side and let them dominate the politics of the country.

MIGHT EVEN SELL IT

Sir James struck a vein in outlining the following: "I think that this would give every reasonable man to be in public ownership, if it is found that it cannot be carried out advantageously, and the public interest of Canada can say. We have a complete system of railways. We have over twenty thousand miles of railroads covering the whole of this Dominion. It is the most complete system in the Dominion, representing entire drainage areas, and to my system in the Dominion, and for that system we are prepared to accept of fees for the purpose of operation or administration, just as the Government of Sir John A. Macdonald in 1881 invited proposals from the entire world for building the C. P. R. The Government would be in a position to offer franchises to the most attractive transportation system that can be offered in the world for reorganization, purchase, or administration, and we have in the Railway Commission all the machinery necessary to control the most elaborate system of roads."

"The Government of Canada, I am sure, has considered all the economic factors in connection with our transportation systems, and yet we hold our hands up in helplessness. At Government ownership, we have no power to do anything. Yet we are here and paid for it. Very little in Canada and paid for it. Very little in Canada and paid for it. Under the employers' proposals, Mr. Gompers claimed that it was not possible to have a 48-hour week, but also under certain circumstances 200 extra hours of a recuperative. We are at the crossroads, and have determined to secure the right road."

THIS BARGAIN IS CHEAPER

Sir James objected to the idea of forming a Grand Trunk system on the ground that there were forty or fifty small railroads, and that to form the Grand Trunk, and that to force a recuperative, each company would have to be done, would cause the various parts of the system to be brought together again at the expense of the public. The present way allowed them to keep the Dominion Railway Company, was formed by the people of the country, and the people of that road a credit to Canada, as it had to the people of the country. The Grand Trunk system of Canada had been organized and running this railway was a mere business proposition.

Sir James considered the Government had made a mistake in that the Senate should consider the matter, and that the Senate should consider the matter in view of such grave public importance and gravity.

SENATOR BOSTOCK

Senator Bostock, Opposition Leader, said the details of the agreement had been worked out very shortly in time. Even now the country did not know what the deal was.

It was not a question of public ownership, but a question of private ownership.

Senator Bostock, for the country was almost entirely controlled by the U.S. system was built in the United States, and it should be seriously considered that it should be largely invested in roads lying outside of Canada.

The assessment of the Grand Trunk and G.

It does not pay interest on the liability or of the capital, and the

the total liabilities assumed by the Government was taking over an unpaying system and adding a millions were needed to put this road in order, and the amount was more than $5,000,000 on the C. N. R. since taking over, the amount was presented by the Grand Trunk were over $60,000,000, and the equipment

the road and equipment were $40,000,000. These figures are carefully estimated and should be in a full report showing the condition of the affairs of the road.

PERSONAL STUDY

Senator Ross, of Middleton, in opposing the bill, said he was accustomed in carrying bills through the Senate to study the bill, and not by any other consideration.

It was important, he said, to know what the amount to be paid for the Grand Trunk was to be, and to provide values to be the basis.

In the negotiations the Grand Trunk had been well represented.

There was no one in the Government who had been more instrumental in getting the better of Sir Alfie Smithers in negotiation.

Senator Ross asked how were the people of Canada to benefit by the entry of the Canadian Government in the ownership of the management of the United States roads? He supposed that the United States had bought the Canadian Northern Railway. Therefore, the directors and turned over to the American management of the great Canadian railway system, would that be good for Canada? Would it be good for Canada to the other? The Grand Trunk had been well represented in Canada, and in a place as did the C. P. R. in Canada, but that did not stop the C. P. R. from buying the Canadian Northern. That is of the feeling which induced some of the Canadian people to oppose the proposal, but there should have been, and the Senate should be informed of it.

48-HOUR WEEK

ADOPTED AT CONFERENCE

But Merely as a "Basis for Discussion," at Present.

GOMPERS' VIEWS

JOINS FORCES WITH CANADIAN LABOR ON THE MATTER.

Washington, Nov. 5.—After nearly five hours of constant fighting, the International Labor Conference to-day adopted the 48-hour week convention of the organizing committee as a "basis for discussion" to examine what the Canadian delegates had not agreed upon.

Adoption of the motion confine discussion to the application of the 48-hour week, and amend the motion for a maximum 8-hour day and 44-hour week. That is the question asked by all hands to night.

The vote was 1,000 to 1,000.

A motion presented by Mr. Barnes, British Government delegate, that the draft convention of the organizing committee be adopted by the conference as the basis for discussion, with reference to a specific convention of the 48-hour week, was rejected.

Originally Mr. Barnes' motion read: "We draft a convention of the 48-hour week, but an amendment by Mr. Fontaine, French Government delegate, gave it an amendment which was accepted, states the words 48-hour week from the motion, and, as amended, it was adopted by 53 to 2. Mr. Barnes, British Government delegate, and Mr. Parsons, Canadian employers' delegate, voted against it. Mr. Parsons, Canadian workers' delegate, voted against it. The other vote against was that of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

It was the first meeting of the conference of the 48-hour week.

He realized it by joining forces with the Canadian Labor group in a demand that the 48-hour week be adopted by the British employers' delegate and managing director of Armstrong, Whitworth & Co., Mr. Marjoribanks, who opposed it regard the 48-hour week.

"Unless the 48-hour day, under normal conditions, shall be the minimum working day, the employers' proposals, you might as well abolish it," he said.

Mr. Gompers declared Mr. Gompers, in a bitter attack on the proposals, "you might as well abolish it." The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

"The employers' proposals, he said, "are not good for labor of Europe, and labor of America.

SMALL BUYERS SWELL TOTAL TO ALMOST NINE MILLIONS

Total From All Sources Yesterday Amounted To Almost a Cool Million

Hamilton's Showing Exciting Admiration of Entire Dominion

The close of each day at Victory Loan headquarters saw Hamilton about one nearer its objective. Such steady and consistent gains suggest the ultimate success of the campaign, officials say, and they are more than pleased at the small subscribers have been responding to the call of duty. If these only continue to buy bonds, the total of the campaign then will all be well. It is the small buyer who is going to sell up the big total for Hamilton. Total collections to last night amounted to $1,000,000, making the total for 4,900 days $8,900,000, less than half of Hamilton's objective for nine days. There are still nine days more before the campaign closes. If the present progress continues then Hamilton will surpass last year's splendid record of over eight millions.

A summary follows:

	Wednesday	App.	Total	App.	Per Cent. Objective.
A	$ 53,350	146	$ 321,040	1,119	76.72
B	63,690	172	566,000	1,880	85.20
C	77,250	155	363,950	858	52.58
D	110,240	102	416,160	1,350	76.72
E	115,000	45	326,520	417	87.26
Total for teams	$328,500		$1,000,000		61.53
Employees	31,100	65	329,950	1,000	61.53
Social	400,000	6	6,071,000	50	93.40
Through Banks	182,150	15	447,500	713
All sources	$93,000		$9,610,200		88.55

DISTRICT E FIRST

Ex-Altoona Thompson and his co-workers in District E forged to the front yesterday in inspiring fashion. They led all teams by many thousands yesterday, and were followed by the others in the field, with 113,450, bought by 65 subscribers. They have reached 61.28 per cent. of their objective. Another day to go and they will have their honor flier.

The best showing for the campaign thus far, however, has been made by Major Seymour's team, which was fourth yesterday, but has a solid lead for total sales, amounting to 400,000, with 111,000 subscribers, which represents 76.72 per cent. of the objective.

Thomas Holmes' team in District C was second, with 177,250 units, 135 subscribers yesterday.

Major Chester Walker's team in District D was third yesterday. To date, however, they are in second position, and so far as their objective goes are a dangerous rival for first place, though they were but a few points behind District E.

Five large subscriptions were received by the special committee yesterday, totaling $40,000, making the total so far $6,071,000 among 500 subscribers, which represents 93.40 per cent. of the objective.

For the last two days sales amounting to $62,150 to 115 subscribers. Their total to date amounts to $64,750,000.

All in all, the outlook is a happy one. If the average of one million a day can be maintained, we will go to victory in no time.

OFFICIALS OPTIMISTIC

J. A. Thompson and Col. G. W. Peeler were both most highly encouraged yesterday by the total figures for yesterday. A substantial increase in the number of applications was noted, and the salesmen were coming forward, buyers were coming forward.

Salemen reported that a great many of the 600 and 1,000 were subscribers yesterday. With the small buyers responding as they should, it will mean that a bond will be sold in every home.

Mr. Thompson said that he and his salesmen are doing their best to help him. He also said that, judging by latest news, the campaign officials are confident that the bond will be successful.

"Everyone," said Mr. Thompson, "is seeing an encouraging increase in the ratio of applications to the number of bonds sold. I am confident that this script for success will be fulfilled, and the class of buyers will help in large measure toward us achieving the objective we have set."

TROPHY EXHIBIT A GREAT IMPETUS

Thousands of citizens have attended the exhibition of war trophies in the Armory since the opening, and officials in charge expect that this last engagement will not fail to draw a large attendance.

The many interesting objects there, all interestingly displayed, have been viewed by thousands of citizens. The school section of Hamilton, with some 200 students attending, came in the afternoon for an admission fee of five cents. The exhibit has been a great success, the Victory Loan campaign and every other thousands who have seen the trophies thus far have responded to buy bonds. Local business firms, flags, pictures, fine bombing aircraft, etc., have brought the war home close to not a few.

This exhibit has been touched with the spirit of a melting pot, with the result that subscriptions have literally poured into the various teams.

Another feature of the team is the "REMEMBER RUBEN RUBEK." Last week Ruben Rubeck, a 16-year-old boy from Toronto, died with a bullet wound in the head. The Prince of Wales in Vernon, when Ruben Rubeck and tobacco on Burlington street, and held the direction of Lord Charles Dunbar, gave numerous selections.

Dunbar was the only pipe major to ever be made a lieutenant for his services. A number of Highland laddies will be featured in sword dances and Scotch reels.

The following programme commences 8 p.m. under leadership of Lt. Col. Dunbar, pipe major of the Lady Macbeth March. Pipe Men. Strathmore, Orange and Blue. Real Highways to Linton. Ill. March. London Highlanders. Royal Canadian Dragoon. Real. Tali Toddie IV. Exhibition of Highland dancing by Pipers Gowans. Antwerp. The Cock of the North. Marquis of Huntly. Deil Amoux the Tailors. God Save the King.

AN ADDITIONAL ATTRACTION TO THE WAR EXHIBITION AT THE ARMORIES, to-night, the 31st Highlanders will put on a programme. The Band will be under the direction of Lieut. Col. Dunbar, pipe major of the London Highlanders.

Dunbar was the only pipe major to ever be made a lieutenant for his services. A number of Highland laddies will be featured in sword dances and Scotch reels.

The following programme commences 8 p.m. under leadership of Lt. Col. Dunbar, pipe major of the Lady Macbeth March. Pipe Men. Strathmore, Orange and Blue. Real Highways to Linton. Ill. March. London Highlanders. Royal Canadian Dragoon. Real. Tali Toddie IV. Exhibition of Highland dancing by Pipers Gowans. Antwerp. The Cock of the North. Marquis of Huntly. Deil Amoux the Tailors. God Save the King.

ANOTHER APPRECIATION.

That Hamilton's splendid showing is appreciated by the officials of the Dominion Executive was evidenced in the following telegram, sent to George H. Wood, chairman of the Canadian Legion yesterday:

"Congratulations to you and your splendid organization upon your splendid showing. You have passed the eight million mark with flying colors. Your great campaign excites our admiration and enthusiasm. Your team is an impetus all along the line. This is a tremendous achievement."

(Signed) G. H. Wood, Chairman.

EVERYTHING BUYING.

An encouraging aspect of this drive is the fact that the vast majority of men are buying bonds. Since women are the franchise she has decided to make a new appeal, and the condition was not UTURE EXPERT HERE Seelye, Famous in This Specialty, Called to Hamilton.

SHORT ITEMS OF THE NEWS OF THE DAY

British Tars Wounded On Battalion at Elba Hit by Hun Shell.

ADRIATIC PROBLEM

Blockade On Russia Stands Till Real Government Formed.

GORDON WALDRON ATT'Y-GENERAL

U.F.O. Circles Give Report Circulation.

Farmers Third in the Popular Vote

Toronto, Nov. 6.—That Mr. Gordon Waldron, Toronto barrister and legal counsel to the U.F.O. in the election, has been definitely chosen by M. C. Drury, Premier designate, as Attorney-General in the Farmer-Labour government which will be formed, is the information secured last night in well-informed circles. Mr. Drury said yesterday that he had a real advantage in his cabinet building, but it is probable that now he has selected his Attorney-General he will be able to consult with him.

The ancient walls of Brampton are to be demolished and the material and grounds are to be sold.

On the last of each month of change, the ancient walls of Brampton are to be demolished and the material and grounds are to be sold.

Mr. Waldron is overjoyed with happiness, and there is a general feeling that he will be a good minister.

Mr. Waldron has been of great service to the U.F.O. since its formation, and yesterday was not the only occasion when he was sought after.

Mr. Waldron is a man of great personal charm and intelligence, and he is a man of real ability.

Mr. Waldron is a man of

BUSINESS, COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL SECTION

MARKETS AND FINANCE

85¢ PER DOZEN ASKED FOR EGGS

Large Buyers Got Them for 75 Cents.

Pork Continues to Sell at $22 Per Cwt.

Thursday Nov. 6, although it was hoped that better weather would be more moderate than in the past two years, there is no indication, judging by present market conditions, that the case. This morning a sharp advance was made, in the dairy hall, when the market was sold at $22 per cwt., a sharp advance; in most cases, the latter figure was demanded, while 75 cents was accepted, only when they were purchased in large quantities.

Quite a lot of chickens and ducks are in hog heaven. Chickens were even more plentiful than ever, sold at unchanged prices, 30¢ per 25 cents, general selling sale. Poultry at 30 cents showed an increase of 5 cents per pound.

The dried fruit market was fairly small. Quite a lot of cabbage, cauliflower, potatoes and apples were offered, with a number of other items, the season's products in lesser quantities.

The meat market was a very good one. Pork and lamb were plentiful and had a large advance. Pork, too, was quite abundant. It still continued to sell at $22 per cwt. When the market was sold at $22, it was decided this morning as to the probable drop in pork prices he received. "Ah, yes, you can get some down a little, at least to 20 cents a pound. That would be a drop of but 2 cents, not quite as much as the public are accustomed."

Other prices were unchanged.

Potatoes, large bkt. 45 42

Potatoes, bag 19 10

Beets, large basket 25 25

Beets, small basket 25 25

Lettuce 65 65

Dried, large basket 95 95

Carrots, large basket 95 95

Onions, large basket 95 95

Turnips, large basket 95 95

Cabbage, large basket 95 95

Yams, large, round down 10 10

Pork, round basket 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Hams, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each 10 10

Pork, plant, each .

AN HEIR UNKNOWN

"You forget," said Cyril, "I am speaking on behalf of Miss Dale, whose property is in jeopardy. I have authority to confer with Mr. Ford, who is the man I have to see. You are the intruder here at present, for notwithstanding the discovery of the document, Lorne Abbey is still Miss Dale's and she is the owner here."

Philip Dyre hit his lip.

"Sline, this is the only witness," said Cyril, "but I have no law yet; you, our gentlemen will say whether one witness is sufficient."

"Quite," said Mr. Sturge, grimly.

"It is all over," he said. "Mr. Ford pressed his hand to his brow.

"I have done that," he said. "I did it last night; not on Mr. Philip Dyre's behalf, but on Miss Dale's. I was anxious to get at the truth."

"A man's life is at stake," said Cyril.

"Was as straightforward as such a man's could be," said Mr. Ford. "I am bound to say that he is a man of honour, but the man burst forth excitedly: "But this shall go no further at present. As Miss Dale's legal counsel I reserve the right to withdraw or to answer any more questions. I am ready to let him go if he wants to do so."

"I am willing, I am anxious to bury the past," he said.

Leda interrupted him with a look of intense alarm, and turned to Cyril, "Will you take me away?" she said, with touching dignity, as if asking for a favour which she had no right of such a proposal.

Philip Dyre's face turned pale. "So he is it," he said. "Then rest my claim upon this document, which I leave in Mr. Ford's honorable hands. And he took up his hat.

"Thank you, Mr. Sturge; for such a disappointment as you can suffer, a bitter disappointment. You rest your claim upon a document not worth the paper it is written upon. I inform you, that we have no claim against Mr. Ford, and I have had no hand in Cyril, "I and I may as well, Mr. Ford, place the notice in your hands."

"What is this?" asked Mr. Ford. "Sign a copy of claim to Lorne Abbey, on behalf of my client, Sir Cyril Lorne, a copy whose certificate of birth is other evidence of identity enclosed."

"Sir Cyril Lorne," echoed Mr. Ford, in amazement. "This is just a Mr. Sturge."

"A very sober earnest, sir," replied Mr. Sturge; "this gentleman is the only son and heir of Mr. Cyril's elder brother, and consequently, Sir Cyril Lorne, of Lorne Abbey."

Everyone rose to his feet and stared at Cyril as if he were a madman, but he seemed to have given up thoughts for anyone or anything but Leda, who, with an inarticulate cry, clung to Mrs. Wetherell.

The bell rang again that afternoon, and when they opened the door, they creased, and for a few minutes a bell alone tolled its knell for the dead. Cyril lay still, his eyes closed, his head bowed away from the others, and he grew gradually more calm, and his last words were a prayer for his soul to leave it. Before his spirit took wing, he turned his head to see his wife and assured her of that forgiveness.

Long before his dust and toll had ceased, and for hours thereafter, Cyril lay still, his head bowed from his load, and told all that he knew of Philip Dyre's scheme to kidnap him, and his love for Leda. Ater that he grew more and more calm, and his last words were a prayer for his soul to leave it. Before his spirit took wing, he turned his head to see his wife and assured her of that forgiveness.

Then they went into the drawing-room.

"Where's Gerald?" asked the countess, suddenly, half an hour afterward.

"I don't know," replied the earl, who had been talking with Mrs. Wetherell.

"And this, too," said the countess. Cyril glanced at Cyril and blushed, and he smiled back significantly.

"I'll go and find them; they are sure to be in town," said Cyril, and before he could reach the door it opened and Lord Beaumont came in with Cyril at his arm, looking very proud of himself, and with a shy flush on her delicate face.

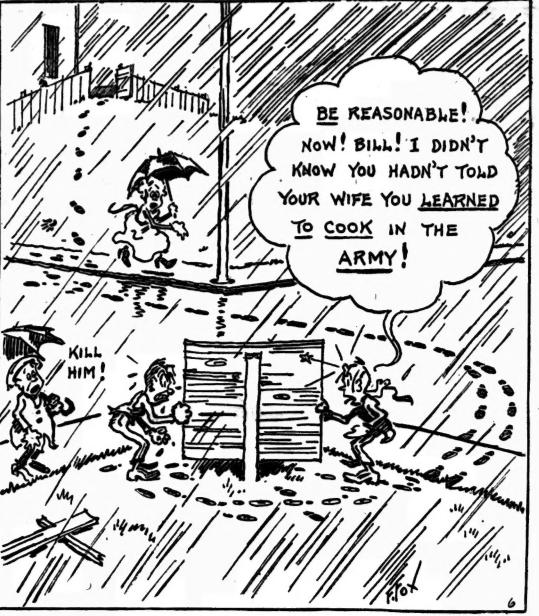

The earl started, the countess stood like stone.

"What have you been, you two?" she asked.

"Preparing a surprise," said Cyril. "Mother Ciss has promised to be my wife, now we can be happy as Cyril and Leda." He added, with a smile, "I got the earl shock in the cost of this."

But Cyril, like Leda, and their own three children, met out of sight, and clung lovingly and sympathetically. As Cyril sat afterwards, with his head folded in his coat pocket, and added to her loneliness was a certain touch of sweet womanly pride, she said to Cyril, "I was penniless, but she had gained her love, and was richer than ever in the world!"

AN ATTEMPT AT JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.

Copyright, 1919, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

"I admit it, sir," said Cyril, gravely, "but it was done on the impulse of the moment. I came over to England to see my wife, and when Philip Dyre, was still alive and quite recovered not to dispose him from the property which he believed to be rightfully his. I had come from America with my lips that my uncle was dead, and that he had left her the Abbey. I fell in love with her, and when we met again, I was moved beyond measure, and the idea of applying for that vacant under an assumed name at once struck me. I should have seen her kill with her, but I caught the thief with her, and I have been held responsible before him, that I was plainly before him, that I was not guilty, and he had all that he knew of Philip Dyre's scheme to kidnap him, and his love for Leda. After that he grew gradually more calm, and his last words were a prayer for his soul to leave it. Before his spirit took wing, he turned his head to see his wife and assured her of that forgiveness."

The bell rang again that afternoon, and when they opened the door, they creased, and for a few minutes a bell alone tolled its knell for the dead. Cyril lay still, his eyes closed, his head bowed away from the others, and he grew gradually more calm, and his last words were a prayer for his soul to leave it. Before his spirit took wing, he turned his head to see his wife and assured her of that forgiveness.

Long before his dust and toll had ceased, and for hours thereafter, Cyril lay still, his head bowed from his load, and told all that he knew of Philip Dyre's scheme to kidnap him, and his love for Leda. Ater that he grew more and more calm, and his last words were a prayer for his soul to leave it. Before his spirit took wing, he turned his head to see his wife and assured her of that forgiveness.

Then they went into the drawing-room.

"Where's Gerald?" asked the countess, suddenly, half an hour afterward.

"I don't know," replied the earl, who had been talking with Mrs. Wetherell.

"And this, too," said the countess. Cyril glanced at Cyril and blushed, and he smiled back significantly.

"I'll go and find them; they are sure to be in town," said Cyril, and before he could reach the door it opened and Lord Beaumont came in with Cyril at his arm, looking very proud of himself, and with a shy flush on her delicate face.

The earl started, the countess stood like stone.

"What have you been, you two?" she asked.

"Preparing a surprise," said Cyril. "Mother Ciss has promised to be my wife, now we can be happy as Cyril and Leda." He added, with a smile, "I got the earl shock in the cost of this."

But Cyril, like Leda, and their own three children, met out of sight, and clung lovingly and sympathetically. As Cyril sat afterwards, with his head folded in his coat pocket, and added to her loneliness was a certain touch of sweet womanly pride, she said to Cyril, "I was penniless, but she had gained her love, and was richer than ever in the world!"

The End.

NEW STORY.

A short continued story, of a novel type, will be found in the Times in the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

"Good for you, my dear," he said.

"My heart began to throb with the trial of Bob of course? When do we start?"

"I am not going, my dear," I replied.

"What's the big idea of my going, then?"

I sat down on the arm of Bob's chair and put my check agains his before replying.

"You are going to elope, Bob," I said in my most positive tone.

"It's only thought out."

Do You Fully Realize What the Victory Loan Means to You?

The measure of prosperity you now enjoy is the direct result of the huge disbursements of the last Victory Loan to the farmers and manufacturers throughout Canada for food-stuffs and products required by the army, Great Britain and our Allies. Had Canada failed last year to raise sufficient money to take care of the great credits extended to Britain and the Allies, the end of hostilities would have been followed by widespread industrial depression, unemployment and great suffering and distress.

Canada has not yet passed the crisis. Canadian industry still faces a slump in production. The mainstay of Canada's prosperity is anchored in our ability to accept and deliver the immense orders which Europe asks us to fill. Canada must extend credits, but cannot do so unless every citizen supports the 1919 Victory Loan in the same whole-hearted way which made the 1918 Loan such a great success.

Assure the prosperity of yourself, your family and your country by buying Victory Bonds.

Boost and Buy More Victory Bonds

Have You Seen the WAR TROPHIES AND PICTURES?
ARMOURIES
Daily 2 p. m. to 10.30
ADMISSION 10 CENTS

This Space Contributed to the Success of the 1919 Victory Loan By

BURLINGTON STEEL CO., LIMITED

VETS WANT ACTION ON GRATUITIES

5,000 of Them Paraded Down-town Section Last Night.

WIRE OTTAWA

Mass Meeting On Market Shows What Temper Men Is.

"It is the profound moment of my life to see every soldier in the city organized for the purpose of getting gratuity. The returned man has not been getting a square deal from the government. T. J. Stewart, Gott Strafe him, says that only 15 per cent of the men who have served are granted gratuity. The others are grafters—Sgt-Major W. Jordan, East End T. S. G."

"The man who stated that only 15 per cent of the men who have served the gratuity has lost touch with the situation as this meeting will show. No man who has served his country belongs to fight for right and justice. Get behind the boys and don't let us forget the widow and orphans." Sgt-Major W. Jordan, East End T. S. G.

"The organization will be stick-tight and this meeting shows that they have come together for a common cause, we will get our gratuity."

"We have got to revert to the old man power that we used in France. I endorse politics, for political street work is the only way we can fight in Ottawa."—A. Searles, United Veterans League.

"The organization shows that our duty after the gratuity is not a trivial movement but something definite. Until at the front we will stand and until we are home we will win."—J. Stevenson, Originals' Club.

These extracts are from speeches made at the market square at a mass meeting of returned men belonging to every soldier organization in the city. All soldiers organizations are united at last for the one common purpose of securing more gratuity. It was decided to demonstrate again paraded through the city streets last night, and the men paraded a banner, "United at Last."

Two delegations were sent to the premier. One went to Premier Borden; T. J. Stewart, member for West Hamilton; Mr. S. C. Newell, and G. C. Wilson, member for Wentworth.

The resolutions read: "We are united at last—our money, our time and our efforts have been in the interests of Canada to night, 10,000 returned soldiers from every organization in the city have come together in behalf of these men, we claim our vote and influence in Parliament to bring about a complete recognition of their services. We demand that the returned soldiers be restored to their former status and dependents of the fallen. This is a solemn duty which we have in common with every returned soldier or sailor organization in the country."

Five hundred men then started a line up in trim soldier formation in the market square prompt at 7:30. The beginning of the "trip" started in the market square, down King street and reached down Main to Catharine, down Catharine to King street, then down the heart of the city to the market square. Thousands of people lined the streets to mark the ranks broke and formed in a great circle around the platform, from where the speakers were to address the crowd.

At 8 o'clock the march started on time and marched up Main street to Main, along Main to Catharine, down Catharine, King street, then down the heart of the city to the market square. Thousands of people lined the streets to mark the ranks broke and formed in a great circle around the platform, from where the speakers were to address the crowd.

As a happy mood, every soldier seemed to enjoy the different organizations, as a student of history, who might have said, had hands in good fellowship forever. The president of the soldier organization, Mr. B. Hall, said:

"J. Hall, president of the Honorable Charged Soldiers' Association, acted as master of ceremonies. He was dressed in a khaki suit, and khaki was the only fashionable color, we accept the Government's word that everyone who wears it is doing his duty as the war. To our surprise we found when we came back that alien enemies were drawing 100 and 150 per day, a somber note. The meaning of his procession is that we now present a solid front to the Government to let them know that we are here."

"It is our duty to stick together to get recompensation on the gratuity question."

J. Hall, president of the Honorable Charged Soldiers' Association, acted as master of ceremonies. He was dressed in a khaki suit, and khaki was the only fashionable color, we accept the Government's word that everyone who wears it is doing his duty as the war.

"To our surprise we found when we came back that alien enemies were drawing 100 and 150 per day, a somber note. The meaning of his procession is that we now present a solid front to the Government to let them know that we are here."

"It is our duty to stick together to get recompensation on the gratuity question."

W. Jordan, of the East End G. V. W. was greeted with great cheers when he spoke of the contributions until the war was over, and the soldiers who had given so much to the war.

"Put your shoulders back, your bayonets and go to it. The battle was always won, but as soon as we came back those high wages were dropped. Our wives and families had a hard time, but we stuck together."

J. A. Sterling, of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Welfare League, added all respects to the soldiers, the aristocrats, the widows and orphans of men who fell overseas should be looked after by the government."

When the resolutions were read, men went up from 10,000 threats, many in the G. A. C. headquarters, here further plans for a central service were considered.

Bubble Books

The Bubble Books for children, each containing three excellent Phonograph Records.

And in addition there are stories, rhymes and pictures.

Come in and we will play any of the records for you.

$1.25 EACH.

ROBERT DUNCAN & CO.

Stationers.

JAMES STREET AND MARKET SQUARE
"BUY VICTORY BONDS."

DEATHS

FRIED—At the residence of her parents, Emerson Street, West Hamilton, on Wednesday, November 5, 1919, Florence Fried, aged 21, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Fried, aged 2 years.

Funeral services planned for this afternoon.

Hamilton Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM.

DODMAN—In loving memory of our dear wife, Mrs. N. J. Dodman, private, who died in Brandon Hospital, Nov. 5, 1919.

Our boy is today. Our boy was called away. His spirit is still with us. We feel his presence yet.

Let us all help to fill

Flowers to witter at the grave.

Then, then has all season for thine own, O. death.

—Family

TEA TABLE GOSSIP

—Plates, Plates, Plates, all kinds, shapes and sizes. Box files, board files, plates, book files, monthly alphabetical lists, etc., etc.

ROBIN HOOD PORTFOLIO—
MAGNETIC SAFETY—
BUTTER, EGGS,

DAIRY BUTTER—Nothing runs into money like butter. White

Crème, Apples, butter, cream, etc.

DELICIOUS—
CRISCO, DOMESTIC SHORTENING

Spy Apples, basket, 25 and 50c.

Green Apples, basket, 25 and 50c.

The usual supply of fresh and dried fruits.

DELIVERIES MADE TO ALL PARTS OF THE CITY.

THE DUFF'S STORES CO. LIMITED

GROCERY

GRANULATED SUGAR has advanced in price, and is now $1.00 per pound. SUGAR—Bags 2 lbs. for 50c. SUGAR—Bags 5 lbs. for 75c. CUCUMBERS—Fresh, green, good fruit, 20c. lb.

FRUIT—Fresh this year. It pays to buy the best on the market.

FRUIT—New fruit—25c. lb.

FRUIT—GINGER, straight from China, 50c. lb.

FRUIT—Lemons, 10c. lb.